The reflections of our lives, balance delicately on top of the
distilled waters of time.

We look down in eager anticipation to see who we have been,
hoping to see who we will become.

The pristine waters reflect back to us
the invisible buds of future flowers,
replacing the splendid blossoms of the past.

The translucent clock ticks quietly in the foreground of life as we harken to the lullaby of the future.
Sitting on the edge of tomorrow with tender moonbeams casting shadows of the past enlighten the path ahead of us.
The past begins to decay and the future glistens
like a shooting star holding our hopes & dreams.

The reflections of our past are just a background
to set sail from;
so we turn from the waters and embrace tomorrow.

Underclassmen

Freshmen

Moving to the high school was a real transition for many and from the stoies we heard we weren't sure of what to expect, but thanks to the help of the Senior class, the administration and the teachers, our first year was a successful one. We held our first semi-formal in January and our first big fundraiser on Valentine's Day. With a class like ours, Next year should prove even more prosperous.

Sophomores

We're not the "frosh" anymore! We're through with being at the bottom of the school, and now it's a whole new world. We have gotten wiser since we came here fresh out of the Middle School (which seems like it was a million years ago). Now something is happening that seemed like it never would! The Class of 2000 is growing up. It's a little scary because it seems like it happened overnight. Many of us are getting jobs, learning to drive, and getting ready for when we have to leave this little world of school and go out into the real world. But that's still two long years away, and until then we're just going to have a good time. We really know how to party and how to have fun, which is the best thing about our class. We may go a little overboard sometimes, like when we had a mosh pit at the Spirit Week Assembly, but that just shows how much spirit we really have. Some people might say, "these kids will be running the world in the next century? We're in trouble." But there is nothing to worry about. We are leaders, not followers, and we have shown in class, on the athletic fields, and in our everyday lives that we can rise to any challenge, and we can have fun doing it. So as we change from kids to adults, let's keep the best of both worlds. We'll prove how much we can accomplish, but I hope we will always be kids at heart and never forget how to laugh. Juniors

Junior year is probably the most important year of any student's high school career. We juniors dedicated ourselves to many things, including music, art, drama, sports and other extracurricular activities, as well as our academics. We have grown together as a class, expanded our friendships and gotten to know one another a little better. The year was a success in every respect, and we should feel proud as we look back on it. Junior Prom '97

"Oh What a Night" was the theme of our Junior Prom, and it certainly was. It was a memorable NIGHT filled with laughter and dancing. The music kept on playing as we did everything from the Macarena to the Electric Slide. The Junior Prom was an exciting event for all who attended. Many fun memories came from that night before, during and after the prom.

Spirit Week

Once again, the seniors dominated Spirit Week this year. Many people participated in the activities and showed off their talent in the Lip Sync contest. Activities such as a pie-eating contest, the limbo, and teacher makeovers were a huge success. Overall it was a fun week.

Clubs And Activities

Ipswich High School students can take advantage of leadership opportunities available through over 14 clubs and activities. From competitive to academic we have it all. Students can have fun, make new friends and discover new talents. Everyone is encouraged to join, and experience things they have never done before.

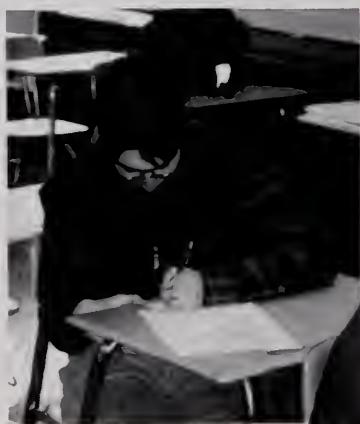

Amnesty International

Amnesty International is a club formed to speak out against unjust causes and to promote better foreign relations. Overall, this is a well organized group formed to involve students with the issues of the world.

Art Club

Sometime between the arguments over the week's musical selection (Doors or Squirrel Nut Zippers?) time is found for art. Through Art Club, we get a chance to explore an open studio and that great, open-ended question "what am I going to do?" With full access to all sorts of materials, the possibilities and inspirations are endless. The art room provided a place where we could expand ourselves artistically, especially those of us who are unable to fit an art class in to our schedules

Band

The Ipswich High School band has been continuously growing through the years, and this year was no exception. With more than 80 kids in the band, we look forward to another year of pep band, homecoming rallies and our seasonal concerts. Under the direction of Gerald Dolan we will also embark on a trip to England for a series of concerts. It should be an exciting year for all!

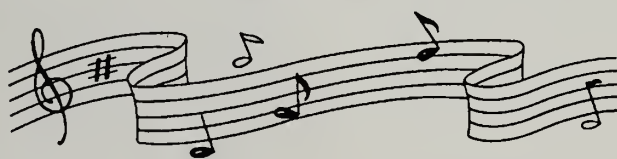

BEN WILCOX

Bel Canto

Under the direction of Ms. Murphy, Bel Canto is sounding great this year. Although the group only meets once a week, it is full of talent and is a wonderful addition to the music program. Bel Canto performs several times throughout the year at school concerts as well as the honors reception at the end of the year. The group is composed of sixteen selecty women's voices, including strong new freshman singers along with the veteran singers.

Chamber singers is an a capella voice ensemble that meets twice a week. In our rehearsals we practice challenging music, in order to perform these songs for both winter and spring concerts. Chamber singers also performs at all major senior functions, including the senior banquet and baccalaureate. Over the years this group has become quite respectable, and I hope that this reputation continues on for years to come. Good luck in the future.

THE Write Stuff

Concert Choir

Under the direction of Miss Murphy, the concert choir meets every day to rehearse for the many events they perform at. Besides our seasonal concerts, we compete in choral festivals, carol around Christmas time, and perform at graduation. The Sisters of Notre Dame enjoy our company at our annual concert for the nuns. We accompanied the band to England and had a fantastic time.

Treble Choir

Because of the large number of freshman singers, a treble choir had to be formed to accommodate all of us. We meet during directed study and practice the same pieces as the regular choir. We also perform at concerts and other events, and have a great time with Miss Murphy.

The Company

Someone once asked a Company member how she could possibly stand having no life because she spent most of her time working on the play. The Company member suddenly realized that the play was her life, and she loved it. Anyone who has been in the company will tell you how the Company is like a giant, happy family - cast, crew and directors alike. We are all great friends, and although we spend nearly all of our spare time in the school cafeteria, we love what we do and we have a fantastic time doing it. Most of the time rehearsing for a play doesn't seem like work at all, and even when we do get frustrated we know it will be worth it in the end. There is nothing more exhilarating than being onstage or backstage on opening night, and there is nothing greater than the memories that you get from the whole Company experience.

Environmental Club

The Environmental Club is a relatively new group that was started only two years ago. We meet weekly after school to participate in a wide range of activities. The majority of our time is spent preparing for the MA Envirothon, a state wide environmental competition. Last year our team placed ninth out more than 30 schools. We also won an award for our learning, caring, helping, and protecting of our fragile environment.

Jazz Band

Dr. Smooth, political signs, Christmas trees, late night swims at the bridge, spam, rolling pumpkins, and an upcoming camp-out. But, we came for the musical experience, really: learning which cymbals not to hit, perfecting the happy-herder technique. It'll be tough next year, Gerry, but (keeping up with tradition) remember Rick's advice: "Kick that funny beat one more time!"

The tests, yeah, they're OK, but it's the joy of receiving a meal ticket and pushing through the food line that keeps the team interested.

London & Paris Trip, 2/12-20/98

The "Tale of Two Cities" trip for Ipswich High students in Europe was a rousing success; great weather in the 50's and 60's with sunny days. The breakfast toast nazi at the Tavistock Hotel will not be forgotten, nor the marvelous croissants at the Timotel in Paris. A night walk to Sacre Coeur, a bateau mouche ride; Miss Saigon (a shock to Ms. Grim); climbing St. Paul's Dome, these and more we'll remember.

Where we would scramble to receive one small milk and one cookie in a never-ending line. Is Science League educational...sure, you better believe it! Building card towers, mouse-trap vehicles or identifying household chemicals to tissue ID's certainly give you a rush. Oh yeah, can't forget about our trusty handbook! Everyone in Ipswich loves to read the Chronicle, especially when the Tiger Transcript is included. Football

Coach's Corner

The 1997 Ipswich Football team did not achieve the goals & expectations that we had hoped for. Our program is not designed to accept mediocrity. Striving to win the Cape Ann League has always been our primary goal. We thought we had the ability & proper attitude to compete for that title. At times we played good football, but we weren't consistent and consequently we had trouble winning our close games. It's important to me that the Seniors leave here with fond memories of their four years playing for the "Tigers" & the lessons they learned in the field will carry over in their future endeavors.

The 1997 Ipswich Football team was a team with a very interesting outcome. A very disappointing one for most. Going into the '97 season the Tigers had hopes of winning and contending for the Cape Ann League Title. That hope was still very bright and very realistic through much of the season, but the team just came up short too many times. Like all of the Tiger football teams in the past the '97' Tigers put their hearts into every game and left every thing they had on the field. The coaching staff of the Tigers did everything they could to help us win, but they can't play the game for us. All we can really say is that we tried our hardest and learned a lesson in life that will never be forgotten.

Aaron Woodworth

4-5-1

Field Hockey

This year's field hockey team was able to improve from last year's record. Our scores rarely showed the domination of the game by the Tigers. Falling to rivals Georgetown was not a plus, but no one will forget the way everyone felt after we beat the Hamilton-Wenham Generals 2-0. We often showed teams that we were better than the records showed. One thing, however, that every Lady Tiger walked away with were the bonds that were made. This year we attended White Mountain Sports Camp and had the "coke" drinking Don as our coach. New friendships were made and old ones restored. The one thing that we have, however, is "citizenship." By the way, Erin P., "where does Melissa live?" How about those strawberries?

MEGHAN HOPPING

Coach's Corner

Our 1997 season started and ended with wins. We grew as a team throughout the season. A highlight was the 2-0 victory over Hamilton-Wenham. The girls were great to work with, always maintaining positive attitudes and giving their all.

Girls' Soccer

The girls on our team don't just play to win, they play because they love the sport. It takes a special person to come away from a season with no wins, and still have something to smile about.
GENIA LOMAS

Coach's Corner

Despite our rough season, the girls' determination, dedication and passion to the sport kept their spirits high. With sixteen girls returning next year, our strength and ability will reinforce our positive attitudes. Good luck next year to Christina in the Czech Republic.

Boys' Soccer

The boys' varsity soccer team had its ups and downs this season, just like any other team. Unfortunately Ipswich's "down" lasted for a good eight games. Ipswich faced many challenges haed on, like the comeback to beat Wilmington, and the effort and composure showed against Newburyport and Rockport. This team was also known for its diversity with players from Haiti, Spain, Honduras, Vietnam and Brazil. No one person dominated over the others, which made this team so special. This year could be called a learning year for the younger players. We wish our graduating teammates the best of luck. PETE RUSIN & KEVIN NYLEN

Coach's Corner

The varsity soccer season began with only 4 players returning from last years successful team. "Begin the Dream" became the team's motto. The coaching staff's goal was to integrate fourteen new players into the squad. A successful preseason gave us high expectations. The very inexperienced squad rallied after a low period and had a chance to qualify for the state tournament. The team did finish the season playing it's finest, with two shutout wins and playing well against the undefeated league champions. Hopes are high looking ahead to next season to take the dream "to the next level." RICK STORER

Golf

The golf team has improved greatly over the past three years. All of the players go out with a lot of enthusiasm and are ready to play each match giving one hundred percent. We surprised ourselves this year and proved that we are a competitive team; the Ipswich golf team is now one of the top teams in our division. I have one more year to go and I know this hardworking and talented team will bring some big wins for the upcoming season.

Captain A.J. Prescott

2) Stephanie Knox / A.J. Prescott / Michelle Carlevale / Colin Bell

Coach's Corner

This year's team was comprised of many talented students. We have improved over the season, and ended with a 0-14-2 record. The team was led by A.J. Prescott, and he was supported greatly by his fellow members. With only one player graduating, the team should continue to stay strong through next season. I wish Stephanie Knox the best of luck next year, and am excited to see the rest of the team next season.

Fall Cheerleading

Not many people think there is much to being a cheerleader. I mean, who else can lift a 120 pound person over their head by themselves? Cheerleading takes a great deal of strength, endurance, commitment, and of course . . . SPIRIT! We work really hard to do our best for all of the fall teams. We have a great coach who knows what she is doing, and together we have all brought ourselves to a higher level. During the season we have become a really close squad and we have lots of fun together.

Coach's Corner

The 1997 Ipswich Cheerleaders had a fabulous year! We demonstrated our strength (doing over 1500 pushups in practice and games), our spirit (we love cheering in the rain, the cold and the mud) when others didn't and our determination (continuing when losing two girls to broken bones). We were also finalists in the State Cheering Championships in Division Four. Only six squads qualified, and we were very proud and honored to be one of the finalists. We are all looking forward to next year, when we hope to win the State Championships!

Coach Minnehan

Winter Cheerleading

With only ten girls on the team, it turned out to be a tough season for the Winter Cheerleaders. However, these girls proved to be completely dedicated. They came to all the practices and all the games, rain or shine. Even with the loss of their injured captain, these strong and talented girls pulled through and worked their hardest to be a successful and spirited team.

International IHS

We are Kristyna and Susanne and we were the foreign exchange students at the Ipswich High School for the year 97/98. We were probably the only Seniors who took the school bus and the only people you could see walking downtown. If you don't want to know more about us or if you know us already, skip this paragraph!

I'm Kristyna and I came from the Czech Republic (not from Czechoslovakia!). In my hometown Pilsen they make the world's best beer.

I'm Susanne from Germany. for all fluently. My homewon, Ravensburg, doesn't make such famous beer, but they make Europe's favorite pretzels.

Nono Ayivi also misses her friends and family in Togo.

Like some other students it is difficult for us to say something nice about school, but there were some things we liked: early dismissal days, spirit week, football games . . . This year was full of experiences. They were mostly good, but even if they were bad, we learned something from them. There were times we missed our friends and families, but we met so many people here and made a lot of friends who helped us through these difficult times.

We would like to thank both our friends and families who enable us to be here and made this an unforgettable year.

The 1998 Yearbook Staff

The 1998 yearbook staff fell to the fate of yearbooks past, as we struggled to make deadlines, find copy and take photographs. We started out strong with a huge show of support, but time passed and numbers dwindled and soon we were left with the few doing the work of the many.

With the eye of Big Brother (Tom Keeley) watching us and the sound of Mr. Winters barking at us, we got it done. THANK GOD. Who could forget those late nights till 10pm or staying everyday after school till 6 and being fed a steady diet of fruit snacks.

I would like to thank Nancy Allen and Markos Doyle for their help when we needed it. Also the kind people at the Ipswich Video Barn & the always cheerful Mark Lawrence Photographers. Best wishes to Shaun as he goes for the doctorate. Good luck next year Markos! YOU'LL NEED IT.

Editor In Chief

Chrisotpher Arthur Knight

A calm and still lake before dawn provides the perfect surface to reflect upon its surroundings. We, too, have reached the ideal time to reflect upon our lives and accomplishments. The small ripples of events and relationships that we have experienced will continue to grow, gain momentum, and shape our futures. Best of luck to the Class of 1998 in the pursuit of our goals.

That princes and kings
And clowns that caper
In sawdust rings

Like you and me
Are builders for

Each is given a bag of

A shapeless mass
A book of rules
And each must make-
Ere life has flown
A stumbling block
Or stepping stone.
